Presenting a visual aesthetic that creates a greater awareness of self and intimacy with others, Claudia Endler is designing simple and powerful adornment that awakens and inspires the best of what we all have to share with the world. Claudia Endler is passionate about jewelry and passionate about self-expression. After a successful career as a designer representative in the fashion industry, Claudia decided it was time to bring more of her creative talents to the design field. What has been a lifelong fascination for the vibrant designer is now also gaining a growing audience - jewelry that combines the best of graphic design, art, and architecture that illuminates the unique and precious qualities that define each of us as individuals.
